

Greenberry's Coffee & Tea

The first Greenberry's opened over 20 years ago in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains as a coffee, tea, and pastry shop for Charlottesville locals. Luckily, when Greenberry's expanded to more locations it kept its small shop charm. What better to represent that than Surface Architectural Supply? Greenberry's DC location now has a wood floor like no other, made of refurbished oak and pine from old barns. Nothing screams vintage charm quite like this wood floor, don't you think?
