GV quartz surfaces feature two textures, polished and honed, to respond to any design aesthetic need. Polished finishes intensify the color, clarity and shine of the surface. Honed countertops instead offer a softer and more natural feel. It's a matte texture with high-quality color consistency.

Our quartz collections has evolved into a set of design solutions, for contemporary architecture in both residential and commercial contexts, offering users unmistakable aesthetic features. All finishes are built from extraordinary technical properties, which combined with captivating colors, solid textures and exclusive finishes express novelty and innovation.

The right solution for timeless design.
